Guaranteed to arrive in good condition during dormant period.

On all California order add 4% sales tax.

SPARKLE RASPBERRY is very delicious in flavor, has a bright light red color, high yield, is a good keeper and shipper, holds its color well and is very excellent for quick freezing.

A grower in Chico, Calif., wrote Oct. 2, 1956: "My Sparkle Red Raspberries are doing fine; huge, prolific and we are still picking them."

A San Fernando grower phoned in the summer of 1956 that his Sparkle Raspberries, planted the year before, were loaded with berries which were as big as the end of his thumb.

Early in October, 1957, I visited a berry grower near Baldwin Park who has Willamette and Sparkle raspberries, Boysenberry, Olallieberry, etc. The Sparkle were started to put on a fine fall crop. They were planted in Feb. 1956. He said he had a good summer crop for which he got $6.25 per tray. Said they were a good color and flavor.

On Oct 16 1957 I visited a planting of Sparkle Raspberries in Oxnard planted in March, 1956. They were picking berries when we were there and took them to market.

CANBY THORNLESS RED RASPBERRY. This is a comparatively recent introduction from the Corvallis, Oregon, Station, by George F. Waldo. See page 20 in catalog.

WILLAMETTE RED RASPBERRY. An older variety from Corvallis. A large berry of dark red color, good flavor and quite productive. Does well on a variety of different soils. While it is larger than Sparkle it is not Sparkle's equal in flavor and bright color. A grower has told us that the Los Angeles market prefers a lighter colored raspberry.

RA-PID-GRO

See pp. 26, 27 in 56-57 catalog

"65% of the major elements in RA-PID-GRO when applied to the surface entered the leaf within one hour and sprayed plants showed significant increase in weight."

Joseph Kuc, in Popular Gardening

"Plants sprayed with RA-PID-GRO looked darker green and more luxuriant than those not sprayed, with 25% more buds."

Dr. P. P. Pirone, in Popular Gardening
